

Board of Education Retirement System (BERS)

Accessibility Progress Report

2024–2025

General

The New York City Board of Education Retirement System (BERS) provides retirement benefits for employees of the NYC Department of Education and other covered employers. BERS is one of the largest multi-employer, multi-tiered retirement systems in the country, serving a diverse membership through defined benefits and tax-deferred annuity programs.

Following the release of our 5-Year Accessibility Plan in 2023, this first annual Accessibility Progress Report highlights the steps we've taken to make our services, communications, and workplace more inclusive and accessible. While we've made meaningful progress—particularly in the areas of effective communications, physical access, and foundational digital assessments—we recognize that continued improvement is essential. In the coming year, we aim to deepen staff training, engage with external consultants, and complete ongoing digital content audits.

Statement of Commitment

BERS remains committed to ensuring that our programs, services, communications, and work environment are accessible to all, including individuals with disabilities. We will continue to meet and exceed legal requirements and follow best practices in accessibility and inclusion to ensure equity for all stakeholders.
